

Allianz Global Investors Fraud Alert

Allianz Global Investors wishes to alert its clients and potential investors that the company names "Allianz" and "Allianz Global Investors" are being misused in connection with an attempted fraud scheme. The name "Allianz Private Investors" and "allianzpi.com" is also being used. This is a fraudulent company and should not be engaged with at all.

The company name of its parent company, Allianz UK, is also being misused. The company name "Allianz UK" has been cloned and is being used in connection with offering certain financial services which are unrelated to services provided by Allianz Global Investors. This is without our authority and has no link to Allianz Global Investors and appears to be fraudulent.

The products and services offered by Allianz Global Investors can be accessed through the website uk.allianzgi.com or www.allianzglobalinvestors.co.uk

Anyone receiving "cold calls" in respect of "Allianz UK", "Allianz Private Investors", "allianzpi.com" should not divulge any personal data or make any payments.

If you are offered any products which cannot be found on the Allianz Global Investors website, please contact Allianz Global Investors directly using contact details which are found independently (i.e. not on an email/ contact provided by the fraudsters)

You can report any attempted fraud to us at the following email address: fraudEU@allianzgi.com
